University of Padua, Italy

Dissemination & Training

WP7 aims to catalyse not only the participation of the current partners and, hopefully, new members but also the contribution of new content to Europeana project.

This will be done thanks to dissemination activities and creation and delivery of training materials related to the main topics tackled by LH projects.

Task 7.1 Dissemination

Scheduled activities (ICCU)

- Website creation and maintenance
- Seminars and presentations
- 3 international conferences
- Academic publications and conferences
- Meetings with Europeana and EuropeanaLabs
- Meetings with the private sector

Task 7.1 Dissemination

Deliverables (ICCU):

D7.1 Project public website (May '11)

The website will be ready on M2 and continuously updated along the whole project period

D7.2 Dissemination materials (September '11)

First set of dissemination material will be delivered at M6 and then continuously updated and integrated with new materials along the project

D7.5 Dissemination Plan (March '12, '13)

1.edition at M12: dissemination activities planned along the project

2.edition at M24: results of the dissemination done and future plan

Task 7.2 Training

Main objective:

provide a comprehensive training syllabus in order to smooth the approach to complex metadata issues and to facilitate the contribution of content to Europeana

Task 7.2 Training

Training opportunities provided by the Linked Heritage project:

operative training on ingestion performed by NTUA, ICCU, CYI (WP4, WP5)

extensive training on LH topics performed by UNIPD (WP7) through the University Virtual Learning Environment (VLE)

Task 7.2 Training

Why eLearning?

to provide a flexible learning approach
so as user can follow the path that best fits his own needs

to serve remote, multicountries and multilingual users with different skills
and background and different purposes

WP7

Task 7.2 Training

The introduction of e-learning in education and training represents a strategic goal for UE: key role in creating knowledge, new innovative learning and content services.

Task 7.2 Training

Padua University offers a wide range of high quality distance learning online courses which promote excellent tutor-student and student-student interaction combined with ready access to online resources that are designed to facilitate part time flexible study and promote independent learning.

The courses are based on Moodle, a free, open-source PHP web application for producing modular internet-based courses.

Task 7.2 Training

Profit from experience

Padua University will offer her competence, experience and technology to design, develop and implement a comprehensive training programme in a virtual learning environment, as required by Linked Heritage, Task 7.2

Task 7.2 Training

UNIPD activities:

gather training materials from different sources
(i.e. sister projects, LH results, Europeana)

plan and develop Learning Objects and make them available through a VLE

special effort will be spent to help unskilful users to gain a basic knowledge on LH topics

an advanced set of modules taking into account the results of the project will also be delivered

Task 7.2 Training

Target audience:

- cultural institutions' managers and decision-makers of Europeana potential content providers
- beginner-level LIS students
- culture and information specialists from museums, libraries and archives who need to keep up to date (self-education and lifelong learning)
- teachers

Task 7.2 Training

All the training materials collected during the project and the LO developed will be hosted in and accessed through the University of Padua long-term preservation system Phaidra (Permanent Hosting and Archiving of Digital Assets and Resources), which is Europeana compliant.

<https://phaidra.cab.unipd.it/>

Task 7.2 Training

Syllabus content:

Overview of Europeana

Roles and activities of Europeana, Europeana Labs, aggregators and content providers, sister projects and Linked Heritage

ESE and EDM

Strategy and procedures for preparation of metadata for submission to Europeana, with field mappings, etc

Intermediate metadata models : what, why and how?

Persistent IDs : what, why and how?

Linked open data: what, why and how?

Terminologies: mapping your own terminology to the Linked Heritage specification

WP7

Task 7.2 Training

Next step:

we are going to set up a panel of LH partners willing to contribute to the following activities:

- defining the Table of Contents of the training syllabus
- testing the LO as far as they will be produced by UNIPD
- translating LO in their own mother tongue

Task 7.2 Training

Deliverables & Milestone (UNIPD):

D7.3 Training materials (March '13)

We will gather and systematised the training material starting from the contribution already available from sister projects or to be produced by the LH projects

D7.4 Virtual Learning Environment (March '13)

We will be implementing it using an online open source CMS

MS12 Training available (March '13)

Both the training materials and VLE will be ready by M24
